

Thought on Mark 4. 35-41

Ever lack faith? Ever doubted God? Ever cried out?
At some point I think we have all done this and I guess at some point we'll do it again.
Maybe the painting and poem, might just help us in our walk with God,

Rembrandt – The Storm on the Sea of Galilee (1633) – Public Domain

“Don’t you care? We’re all going to drown!”
His face of love and concern
Looks me right in the eye
Knowing my fear
Seeing the tempest inside
He speaks
“Peace! Be still!”
In an instant, everything changed
His eyes met mine again
A greater fear arose
“Why are you so afraid?
Do you still have no faith?”

© 2019 Jason A. Muckley

Revd Tonya